The Mother's Faith. Cried a pale one, Give me joy, I have borne a cherub boy. Borne a boy! The world is full, Crammed its game of push and pull; You have given that cherub life, For a gauntlet race of strife. If his heart be large and tender, Sadly will his means be slender; Everlasting duns will push him, Poverty will cramp and crush him. If his heart be small and stony, It will canker with his money; Rust will gnaw it through and through, Care will vex it black and blue; And the wretch, O hapless mother, In his wealth will starve and smother! Cried the mother, God is living, Blest the boon is of his giving; I will trust him that the boy, Living shall be full of joy Truth and justice-self-denial-Shall prepare him for the trial Into which he must be hurled, Of a scuffling, brutal world. Watch will I his opening soul, Kindling with the living coal-Love to God and love to man-Working out his Maker's plan. Who shall say this boy of mine Shall not as an angel shine; Winning to the heavenly state, Hearts now filled with strife and hate; Calling down that better day, When the good will bear the sway, And the brutal slink away ! Ceased she, her deep blue eye, Flashed the glories of the sky. From her faith not to be driven, With a love to angels given, Kissed she then that gift of Heaven.

A Witty Lecture.

The following extract from the report of a committee on Hogs, read before an Agricultural Society

'down east,' contains some excellent hits: 'Again: Some folks accuse pigs of being filthy in their habits, and negligent in their personal appearance. But whether food is best eaten off the ground, gister and Receiver of the proper land office, and make payment or from China plates, is, it seems to me, merely a therefor as soon as practicable after seeing this notice, and befor December: matter of taste and convenience, about which pigs the day appointed for he commencement of the public sale of the lands embracing the tract claimed, otherwise such claim will be and men may honestly differ. They ought, then, to be forfeited. judged charitably. At any rate, pigs are not filthy enough to chew tobacco, nor to poison their breath by drinking whiskey. And as to their personal appearance, you don't catch a pig playing the dandy, nor the female among them picking their way up this muddy village after a rain in kid slippers.

*Notwithstanding their heterodox notions, hogs have some excellent traits of character. If one chances to wallow a little deeper in some mirehole than his fellows, and so carries off and comes in possession of more of this earth than his brethren, he ly, and at lower than the usual rates. Their only question seems to be, is he house. still a hog? If he is they treat him as such.

*And when a hog has no merits of his own, he never puts on aristocratic airs, nor claims any particular respect on account of his family connections.

Five thousand four hundred barrels navy beef, and four thousand eight hundred barrels of navy pork : Each barrel to contain not less than two hundred pounds nett weight of heef or pork : no excess of weight in either article will be paid for. To be delivered at the respective navy yards, as

United States-

At Charleston, Mass., At Brooklyn, N. Y., 1,800 1,600 At Gosport, Va.,

Said beef and pork must be delivered, one half betwee the first day of January, 1849, and the first day of April, 1849; and the other half between the 15th day of April, 1849, and the 15th day of June, 1849, unless earlier deliveries should be required by the chief of this bureau. Offers must be made for each half separately and distinctly; that is, for the half delinerable between the 1st of January and 1st of April, and for the half deliverable between the 15th of April and 15th of June, 1849. Payment for ich ist half to be made within thirty days after delivery; and for the second half in thirty days after the 15th of June, 1849. The beef must be from well-fattened cattle, slaughtered between the 1st day of Navember . 1848, and the 1st day of Februthe shins and shoulder clods, and at least eight pounds from the neck end of each fore quarter, or the parts marked Nos. 1, 2, and 3, on the drawing or defineation of the fore and hind quarters of on ox, which will be attached to and form a part of the contract, must be wholly excluded from each barrel and half barrel, and the remainder of the carcass must be cut in pieces of not less than

day of February, 1849, and weighing not less than two bundred pounds each, excluding the heads, joles, necks, shoulders, hams, legs, leet, and lard, and all refuse pieces; and must be cut pieces weighing not less than six pounds each. Both the beef and pork must be saited with at least one statute bushel of Turk's Island, Isle of May, or St. Ubes salt; and the beef must have five ounces of fine pulverized saltpetre to each barrel, exclusive of a pickle, to be made from fresh water, as strong as salt will make it. One fourth the quantity of beef, and one fourth the quantity of pork, must be packed in half barrels, and contain one hundred pounds nett weight of each, as the case may be; and, in estimating the price, two half barrels are to be considered as one barrel. The barrels and half barrels must be made of the best seasoned white oak, or white ash staves and heading; if of the former, to be not less than three-torths of an inch thick; if of the latter, to be not less than an inch thick for barrels, and three-fourths of an inch for half barrels, and to be hooped at least three-fourths over with the best white oak or hickory hoops. Each barrel and haif barrel must be branded on its head "Navy

Bidders must specify their prices separately and distinctly in separate offers for the beef and for the pork, and for each of the places of delivery, covering all expenses and all charges. Bonds in one-third the amount of the respective contracts will be required, and ten per centum in addition will be withheld from the amount of each payment to be made, as collateral security for the due at faithful performance of their respective contracts, which will on no account be paid until the contracts are complied with in all respects, and is to be forfeited to the United States in the event of failure to complete the deliveries within the prescribed periods. And in case of failure on the part of the contractor to deliver the aforesaid | eef and pork within the time specified, the chief of the bureau of provisions and clothing shall have the any excess of cost shall be charged to and paid by the contractors. Payment will be made by the United States at the periods above specified, (excepting the ten per centum to be withheld until the completion of the contracts, as before stated,) after the said beef and pork shall have been inspected and received, and bills for the same shall have been presented to the navy agents respectively, day approved by the commandants of the respective navy yards, according to the terms of the contracts, The parts of the beef to be excluded will be particularly designated in the engraving to be be attached to the contracts. Persons interested can obtain them on application at this office. Bidders whose proposals are accepted (and none others) will be forthwith notified, and as early as practicable a contract and bond will be transmitted to them for execution; which contract and bond must be returned to the bureau within ten days, exclusive of the time required for the regular transmission of the mail. Every offer made must be accompanied (as directed in the 6th section of the act of Congress making appropriations for the naval service of 1846-7, approved 10th August, 1846, a copy of which is subjoined) by a written guaranty, signed by one or more responsible dersons, to the effect that he or they undertake that the bidder or bidders will, if his or their bid be accepted, enter into an obligation within ten days, with good and sufficient sureties, to furnish the articles proposed. This guaranty must be accompanied by the certificate of the United States district judge, United States district attorney, navy agent, or some officer of the general government, or individual known to the bureau, that the guaranters are able to make good

No proposal will be considered unless accompanied by such The bidder's name and residence, and the name of each member of a firm, where a company offers, should be distinctly Extract from the act of Congress approved August 10, 1846.

For the sale of Richardson & Taylor's Ploughs. 600 PLOUGHS. The subscribers are now manufacturing the most splendid lot of Ploughs right and left banded, of the Peacock, Sloop, Diamond and Witherow Patterns, ever made in this city. Having been engaged for several years in this business, they consider it almost needless to say anything more than merely to let the people know that they have them on hand and for sale. They are making a large lot of the Diamond, which in loose soil or stubble take the lead of any plough now in use. The Witherow, in sod or hard ground, cannot be beat. The Pencock and Sloop are too well known to need any praise, therefore they will only add, that their Ploughs are laid with the best of German steel The timber was selected with great care, and is well seasoned; and they warrant them in all cases to be good, and to perform well.
